An overview of the architectural plans for the Bath Club restoration and its new additions was presented and a tour given by architect Allen Shulman. Refreshments were provided by the Bath Club.

The meeting was called to order at 6:45 p.m. by President Bill Murphy.

The minutes were approved as distributed.

Treasurer's Report: Walter Alvarez presented a report on the 2001-2002 Audit, prepared by CPA Fritz Grant. The audit was a "clean" audit. However, it showed Dade Heritage Trust expenses were greater than its income for 2002.

President Bill Murphy emphasized the importance of every Board member helping to raise funds for DHT.

The DHT Holiday Party showed a $610 profit. Jim Herrera donated $900 for a new computer for DHT's office. Cathy Coates contributed $500 recently. Two gift memberships of $250 each were purchased by Eugene Threadgill of McLean, Va.—a good idea to encourage for others in the future.

Walter Alvarez reported that he met recently with Ivan Rodriguez regarding the Revolving Fund and to discuss the public education campaign and the criteria that has been developed to apply for monies from the fund. There was also a discussion of the idea of partnering with local banks, which would make and administer the loans. The idea would be to use the revolving loan funds as collateral. Becky Matkov was asked to contact the National Trust again for their Revolving Loan forms, which might be used as models.

Frans Boetes suggested that DHT could restore historic buildings and then rent or sell them at a profit. Individuals or companies could also buy "shares" in this venture.

Kathy Hersh asked if the Revolving Loan Funds brochure could be ready in time for distribution at Dade Heritage Days and was told it could be.

George Neary moved to accept the Treasurer's Report, seconded by Frans Boetes and it passed unanimously.

Executive Director's Report. Becky Matkov stated that she has applied for a $20,000 grant from the Peacock Foundation. She is also applying to the Leigh and Goldsmith Foundations. DHT needs sponsors for Dade Heritage Days. An effort is underway to secure sponsorship from the Biltmore Hotel. Rich Heisenbottle said he would pursue a $5000 cash sponsorship from the Biltmore. Becky spoke with Angela Gittens, MIA Director, who said she would be willing to be a guest speaker for a fund-raising luncheon.

There was a discussion on the possibility of DHT purchasing bronze plaques for historically designated buildings, though cost would be a concern.. Rich Heisenbottle suggested this issue be added to our 2003 program goals.

Preservation Today Magazine. The magazine can be a good fundraiser if enough advertising is sold. Each Board member is being asked to buy or sell a page of advertising for the magazine, which will come out at the end of April. Background information, rates and order forms were distributed.

The President asked each Board member to secure one page of advertising for Preservation Today magazine by the next Board meeting on Feb. 20th and to bring the information to the Board meeting or send it to the DHT office by that date.

President's Report: Bill Murphy thanked Neil Robertson for hosting the DHT holiday party in his lovely Morningside home and for contributing $600 for the band. He also thanked the board members who attended and brought food, which made for a fabulous buffet.

Bill commended Dolly MacIntyre for organizing the phone-a-thons, which have brought in $2360 for far and have been good opportunities to reach our membership, noting it would be great if we could do them on a regular basis.

Bill announced that our Heritage Tours have been resurrected. Judy Pruitt is working hard on these tours with Michael Kropke, the new partner of Dragonfly Expeditions, DHT's subcontractor for the tours.

Rich Heisenbottle discussed the move of Old Miami High Bungalow and a sign-up sheet was passed around so board members would indicate if they would attend the public ceremony and relocation on Saturday, January 18th. This culminates many months of hard work and is an accomplishment worth celebrating. All are encouraged to attend.

Kathy Hersh asked about a letter being sent to Parrot Jungle to restore the old entrance. Becky agreed to follow up on that.

George Neary announced that Art Deco Weekend lectures were open to DHT members and the public. Becky agreed to write a letter to the Convention and Visitors Bureau thanking them for lending George Neary to manage the Art Deco weekend.

Penny Lambeth offered the professional services of her niece, who produces newsletters, to help pro bono with the layout of the DHT newsletter, if our board member/ editor Marie Stiefel would find that to be of help.

Dolly MacIntyre announced that a workshop on historic surveying would be sponsored by the Villagers at the Coconut Grove Woman's Club, Jan. 24. Dolly McIntyre also discussed a Knight Foundation grant that will need a city match of $57,000 to access $1 million in National Trust technical services..

Frans Boetes gave a presentation on the purchase of the Mohawk for the Maritime Museum. Jones Boatyard has agreed to put it into drydock. The City of Miami is working on a Resolution to designate the basin as a Maritime Museum.

Don Marx announced that the Deering Foundation is having a Bootleggers Ball March 28 and everyone is invited.

Becky Matkov said she has been unable to get additional information on the sale of the Trapp House in Coconut Grove. It was suggested she write the heirs in Atlanta from the tax records, and Dolly MacIntyre said she will try to secure the information and address online.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:50 p.m.

Mr. Richard Moe, President
National Trust for Historic Preservation
1785 Massachusetts Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 2036

Dear Dick,

Our president, Bill Murphy, and I so enjoyed seeing you at the National Trust Board luncheon at Vizcaya yesterday. What a lovely afternoon!

Dade Heritage Trust is looking forward to working with you and the National Trust staff on the Preservation Initiative in Miami.

For the past several years Dade Heritage Trust has been focusing attention on many of the areas of town you are now targeting. We have partnered with DDA on a Main Street program for Downtown and are now pushing for a National Register District in the city's commercial core. We have presented workshops for historic homeowners—including one featuring Stanley Lowe--and annually orchestrate a multitude of historic neighborhood tours and special events during Dade Heritage Days. We receive great, and effective, publicity from announcing annually our "Ten Most Endangered Historic Sites." (An idea we shamelessly copied from the National Trust!)

We have strongly advocated for governmental policy changes, fighting to save the Miami Circle (when the then-mayor wanted to dig it up and put it in the Convention Center...) and persuading the City Commission to approve a tougher historic preservation ordinance and to allocate $5 million of the City's bond funds for preservation. We are encouraged by a City Commission that is far more supportive of preservation than ever before, but when land values are so high and development pressures are so vast and well-financed, fighting for historic preservation in Miami remains a swim up Niagara.

Mac Nichols and I have been discussing ways the National Trust and Dade Heritage Trust can work together in the coming months. Dade Heritage is especially eager to learn how to leverage our $700,000 Preservation Revolving Fund to make a real impact.

We welcome your bringing the National Trust's considerable financial and technical resources to bear on the challenges we've been facing, and thank you for the fine work you do.

Enclosed are several issues of Dade Heritage Trust's Preservation Today magazine and a copy of our book on Miami's Historic Neighborhoods, which I thought you might find of interest for your work down here.

We look forward to seeing you again, hopefully, when you return to Miami, or certainly at the fall National Trust conference.

Sincerely,

Re: Historic Preservation Projects and Funding

Gentlemen:

As nonprofit organizations and individuals who have worked to preserve Miami's historic resources and revitalize older neighborhoods, we are writing for two reasons.

First, we want to thank each of you for your wonderful support of historic preservation this past year. We are delighted that the City administration added Historic Preservation funding as a part of the bond referendum, and we are even more delighted that the electorate approved it.

We applaud the City's leadership in strengthening the preservation ordinance to prohibit demolition of historically designated properties, except for proven economic hardship. And we commend the City Historic Preservation Board for considering more properties for historic designation.

We congratulate each of you for the City's extraordinary partnership with Dade Heritage Trust and the Miami High Alumni Association to save from demolition the oldest high school building in all of Miami-Dade County and to relocate it to Southside Park. We so appreciate your financial and logistical support of the 1905 Old Miami High School Bungalow, which, when fully restored, will be a City-owned community center serving generations of new Miamians.

We are also proud of the City of Miami for restoring the City Hall in the historic Pan Am Terminal at Dinner Key. During Dade Heritage Days in March and April, we look forward to showcasing this restoration as a symbol of the City's new attitude of respect and appreciation for Miami's heritage.

Secondly, we want to urge your thoughtful consideration for the allocation of the first distribution of the historic preservation bond money. We so appreciate the Commission already approving $350,000 for the Old Miami High relocation. While there are many worthy projects in need of funding, we ask that you give special consideration to immediately funding the following preservation initiatives:

I. National Trust for Historic Preservation Matching Grant-- $57,500

In return for $57,500, Miami will receive $1.8 million in National Trust technical assistance, grants and low interest loans to City property owners. This National Trust grant will benefit the entire City of Miami. The City applied for this grant, and received it conditioned on the City Commission approving this minimal local cost share. The City of Miami is one of four metropolitan areas selected to participate in this program, which is partially funded by the Knight Foundation. To fail to fund this would disgrace the City of Miami government.

2. Gusman Center for the Performing Arts--$500,000

This historic theater, designed in the 1920s by John Eberson, is a crown jewel of Miami's historic structures and is a cornerstone for revitalizing downtown. Both the State of Florida and Miami-Dade County have put in over $5.8 million dollars for the theater's restoration, while the City has contributed nothing at all towards the restoration. Although this $500,000 will not complete all the restoration work necessary, it will go a long way towards making this landmark the showcase it deserves to be.

3. Black Police Precinct and Museum Restoration-- $842,500

This project is important not only for its historic preservation value in telling the story of segregation, but also for its future use as a community center. Its programs will be overseen by the City of Miami Retired Police Benevolent Association, whose members are committed to mentoring neighborhood youths.

Thank you for your support of historic preservation. Restoring old buildings for a useful purpose saves the past, enriches the present, and educates the future. Keep up the good work!

DADE
HERITAGE TRUST

February 7, 2003

Mr. Bertram J. Goldsmith, Jr., President
The Goldsmith Family Foundation
Concord Building, Penthouse
66 West Flagler Street
Miami, FL 33130

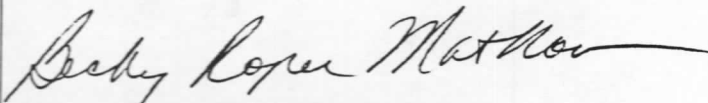

Dear Chico,

On behalf of Dade Heritage Trust, I want to thank The Goldsmith Family Foundation so much for the donation of $15,000 for Dade Heritage Days. We will use $10,000 for Dade Heritage Trust's historic preservation efforts and will contribute $5000 to the Downtown Miami Partnership for the Antique Car Show to be held March 29, 2003, in Downtown Miami.

We deeply appreciate your generosity. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, Dade Heritage Trust could never accomplish all that we do without the support of wonderful friends like you.

Many, many thanks!

Sincerely,

Becky Roper Matkov
Executive Director
